The HP-71 Handheld Computer offers a powerful, yet low-cost, means of integrating manufacturing processes. Use an HP-71 Handheld Computer system to:

- Monitor production line processes to track and control variables
- Automate test stations to increase productivity and quality
- Network local nodes to a supervisory computer for information on overall line performance

Let the contents of this folder serve as a springboard to productivity and efficiency gains in your organization.